Deacons Emeritus—Following its action asking that our deacons retire for at least a year from active service at the end of each term, our church voted last week to name two of our men as Deacons Emeritus. Dr. W. H. Coker, Sr., and Mr. F. G. Almon were both elected to serve the church for life in this capacity. This means that these men will serve the church the rest of their days as deacons, attending all meetings as possible, participating in the discussions and voting their convictions, but will not be required to assume or retire from responsibility except by their own choice. Both of these men have served as active deacons of our church for more than 30 years.

Convention—Those of us who did not get to attend the Southern Baptist Convention have been impressed by several things:

1. Baptists can change their plans. Next year's Convention has been moved to Miami, Florida, May 18-21, and will not meet in Washington, D. C. in June. The 1956 meeting is scheduled for Kansas City, and the 1957 session for Chicago.

2. Baptists can afford positive leadership in facing practical problems. The vote of the Convention in commending the Supreme Court decision on segregation was overwhelming. Baptist people in the South are ready to take the lead in facing the practical problems involved. We believe that God's love extends to ALL men.

3. Baptists can make mistakes when not adequately informed. Some important matters came to the Convention without sufficient information and time being given to the people for their consideration. It is always a mistake for Baptist people to be "pushed" in making decisions. Wise actions can be taken only when people find and follow the leading of the Lord. Perhaps this is a part of the reason for President Storer remarking concerning the 1954 Convention, "Parts of it will not bring, in retrospect, much satisfaction, either mentally or spiritually."

Bulletins—Some of our people who have been away on vacation trips have mailed or brought the pastor church bulletins. I like for you to do this.

Prayer—The Emmanuel Baptist Church, Alexandria, La., from which Mr. Bizzell and I came to you, has called Dr. Sam Reeves, El Dorado, Ark., as its new minister. Dr. Reeves, a schoolmate of mine at Louisville, is to begin his work August first. I want to request that our people join in prayer for God's leadership and blessing upon this church and pastor as they move forward to

As I See It!

Sunday School—Our Sunday School attendance last Sunday surely didn't represent our best. Even during these summer months we ought never to fall below the 1000 mark. Let's do better Sunday. Every officer and teacher, every class officer, every member remaining faithful to the task will keep our attendance climbing during these summer months.

We missed the inspiration and planning of our Wednesday night Teachers' Meeting this week on account of the Picnic. Let's make up for it by doing some visiting and using the telephone.

It was good to see our Training Union attendance last Sunday above 300. Let's keep it above that figure!

Officers and Teachers—Don't Forget—Preview Studies and Leadership Training Class continue Wednesday.
