Viewpoint

By NATHAN C. BROOKS, JR.

A Hearty Thank You to Mrs. W. E. Hoster, 1701 N. Osceola Blvd., for the gift to the church of a piano which is being used in Adult C Department.

Alcohol Education Week deserves the best that we can give it in effort and prayer. Many of our homes and most of our lives have felt the curse of alcohol in one way or another. It is only by the grace of God that lives can be freed from this curse. Invite your friends to come.

Vacation Bible School is less than three months away. Mr. Bizzell will be calling upon many of our congregation to assist with the annual emphasis. You'll plan to help if you possibly can.

Your Pastor was quite disturbed by the anti-Semitic tone of the newspaper report of an address in our community. Too many people are ready to believe half-truths, or misinformation. I am glad to know that there are those in Pensacola who will protest actions and attitudes that could divide a community.

Tongue in Cheek—Twenty-three Protestant ministers of Mount Ida, Arkansas, have proposed, with a trace of sarcasm, that speeding, theft and prostitution be legalized and taxed for revenue in the state.

The clergymen attacked arguments that "drinking and gambling should be legalized because people are going to do them anyway," and said, "it is just as consistent to legalize and collect taxes" from other vices.

LIQUOR INDUSTRY NOW PURSUES CHILDREN

Our Correspondent Walter D. Calvert recently reported (issue of February 13) that a special advisory committee had recommended against raising the "drinking age" in New York State from 18 to 21 years. The change had been proposed by the governors of New Jersey and Connecticut, where 21 is already the minimum age for legal drinking. The advisory committee claimed that the majority of New Yorkers do some drinking by the time they are 16, in most cases with parental approval, and that the problem of drunkenness among young people must be solved by families and social groups rather than by law. As we see it, the advisory committee missed three big facts. First, there is a special traffic hazard in the teen-age driver, as the liability insurance rates testify. Second, there is a special crime hazard in the age group under 21. In 1952, 47 per cent of all persons arrested for larceny were under 21 years of age; likewise 37 per cent of those arrested for robbery and 35 per cent of those arrested for rape. Third, the liquor industry is not regulating itself, with the result that many taverns will sell any amount of liquor a customer will pay for, regardless of his age or condition, and permit panderers of all sorts to prey upon those who have lost their inhibitions. In Chicago recently a criminal "confession" inflamed public indignation. The confession appeared to be highly inaccurate on the main count, but nobody doubted the accuracy of its allegation that minors had been served liquor in a number of taverns. In defense of his administration Mayor Daley revealed that during 1956 he had revoked the licenses of 50 taverns, suspended the licenses of 15 more, and refused to issue new licenses to 14 others. The grounds for these actions were the sale of liquor to minors, permitting minors to solicit as prostitutes and the like. To refer such a problem to "the family," as the New York advisory committee suggested, is a counsel of perfection, not only because a powerful industry is tolerating vice-breeding practices but also because the young people most likely to go astray come from broken homes. For example, a New York study showed that 60 per cent of offenders young enough to be classified as juvenile delinquents were from broken homes. —The Christian Century.

THE GREAT REMOVER

An exchange says: Alcohol will remove stains from summer clothes. This is correct.

Alcohol will also remove—

The summer clothes
The winter clothes
The spring clothes
The fall clothes

not only from the back of the man who drinks it, but from his wife and children as well.

Alcohol will also remove—

A good reputation
A man's business
A man's friends
A happy look from children's faces
A prosperous man to a pauper grave
A man from respectable society to the penitentiary
A man from the highway of heaven to the road to hell.

And will make a wildcat out of an otherwise inoffensive citizen.

ALCOHOL HAS NO EQUAL
As a remover of things
