God's Provision for Us

PSALM 23

The Lord is my Shepherd—

Perfect Salvation

I shall not want—

Perfect Satisfaction

He maketh me to lie down in green pastures—

Perfect Rest

He leadeth me beside the still waters—

Perfect Refreshment

He restoreth my soul—

Perfect Restoration

He leadeth me in paths of righteousness

Perfect Guidance

I will fear no evil—

Perfect Protection

Thou art with me—

Perfect Company

Thy rod and Thy staff

Perfect Provision

Thou preparest a table—

Perfect Provision

Thou anointest my head—

Perfect Consecration

My cup runneth over—

Perfect Joy

Goodness and mercy shall follow me—

Perfect Care

I will dwell . . . forever—

Perfect Destiny

Pastor's Paragraphs

The good Lord willing, by the time you read these lines the Pleitz Family will be in Arkansas. We plan to spend a few days in Stuttgart, which is my wife's home. (Stuttgart, Arkansas, is world famous as the duck capitol of the world and although my wife does not like to admit it, it's the home of the world's largest mosquitoes!) From there we will drive on to my home in Jonesboro, Arkansas. We plan to attend church there next Lord's Day. The following week we will be in Ridgecrest attending our Baptist Assembly.

I will be out of the pulpit for two Sundays. Mr. Bizzell will preach next Sunday and Dr. Malcolm Tolbert, who served as a missionary in Brazil will preach the Sunday of July 22. These men are both excellent preachers and I urge you to hear their messages.

A number of you have requested copies of the pastor's sermons for the past two Sundays. We are working on these and they should be ready in a short time.

In a few days you will receive a record of your giving for the first six months of the church year. Many of us are behind in our stewardship. Won't you please make a special effort to catch up? We do not want any phase of the Lord's work to suffer because of our failure to be good stewards.

Although I'll be out of the city for the next several days, rest assured that you will be very much in your pastor's prayers.

Faithfully yours,

James L. Pleitz

LIBRARY NOTES

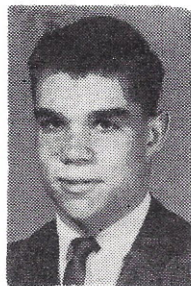

"Men of Fire" by Walter R. Bowie penetrates the very depths of Christian conscience. Through these shining witnesses to faith, we discover anew the eternal truth which came to us from Christ: that he who seeks his life shall lose it and he who risks his life for the Gospel saves it in the glory of his soul. Great heroes of the Christian faith live again in these 26 exciting biographies of men on fire with the Gospel.

We have some copies of Dr. Roland Q. Leavell's book, "The Sheer Joy of Living" which many of you will want to read. These are good days to spend some time relaxing with a good book.

TRAINING UNION ABANDONED!

In a real sense the heading is true. Training Union has been abandoned by the great majority of our members. Of course some have never been interested in this part of our church work. The disheartening thing is that many who used to participate have abandoned Training Union.

No, Training Union has not been abandoned by the church — just by the church people. Will you attend this Sunday night?

"WHEN YOU'RE HERE, BE HERE"

A good slogan for the summer is "When You're Here, Be Here". That is, when you are in the city, be present for the services of your Church. Those in places of leadership should take the lead in keeping the membership faithful to the Church through the summer months.

The sudden drop in attendance in most of our churches during the summer months is an outrageous sin against God. "Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy" is just as much a commandment in July as it is in September. We often excuse our spiritual laziness by vague references to the "summer slump" and related phrases. We should remember, however, that any "slump" is a "spiritual slump," and is not attributable to the season of the year, but to the condition of our souls.

Christ took no vacation from Calvary. God takes no rest from His ceaseless bestowal of blessings upon us. We cannot afford to withhold our best from Him, no matter what the time of years. "When you're here, be here."
