BEATITUDES OF THE RISEN LIFE

Blessed is the man whose heart today burns as he walks with Jesus by the way.

Blessed is the man who having not seen, yet believes.

Blessed is the man who hears the voice of the Risen Lord saying, "Peace be unto you."

Blessed is the man who accepts the glorious Master,
Jesus Christ, as his Lord and his God, and worships Him.

Blessed is the man who thus lives the power of the endless life through fellowship with the Risen Lord.

Blessed is the man whose words and deeds are day by day, and every day a witness to the living and loving Lord.

—Oliver Huckel

Pastor's Paragraphs

Charles Haddon Spurgeon once said, "When you bewail the world's iniquity, let not your emotions end in tears; mere weeping will do nothing without action. Get on your feet; ye that have voice and knowledge, go forth and preach the gospel, preach it in every street and lane of this city; ye that have wealth, go forth and spend it for the poor, and sick, and needy, and dying, the uneducated, the unenlightened; ye that have time, go forth and occupy it in deeds of goodness; ye that have power in prayer, go forth and pray. Every man to his post! Every one of you to our gun in this day of battle; for God and for His truth; for God and for the right; let every one of us who knows the Lord seek to fight under His banner!

A time of revival is a call to battle. It is the launching of a special offensive against the powers and forces of evil. It calls every man to his post. There is something special that each of us can do. Let us do it! There are some things all of us can do—pray, invite our friends and be present for each service. Don't assume that someone else will do these things while we fail. The measure of our success will be the measure of our feeling of personal responsibility and our response to the challenge before us.

Be sure and be in your place during these remaining days of our revival. May God bless you for your faithfulness. I'll be looking for you Sunday, 1300 Bibles strong.

Faithfully your pastor,

James L. Pleitz

YOU THINK YOU CAN'T BE FOOLED?

Try this: There are five F's in the paragraph below. The average person is not observant and will see only three . . .

Library Notes

"Reading: the fifth freedom, enjoy it" is the slogan for National Library Week April 21-27.

"The late Franklin Delano Roosevelt stirred the imagination of the American people with his 'Four Freedoms' Speech in 1941. In it, he recognized freedom for mankind as a two-way street — freedom from and freedom to.

"Now, 22 years later, we, the American people, are considering a fifth freedom—reading. It, too, is a two-way street—freedom from ignorance and freedom to knowledge.

"Since our reading privileges and skills are God-given, we who are Christians are especially accountable for how we use them. For us, the right to read imposes a three-fold responsibility: (1) that we take time to read, (2) that we carefully select what we read, and (3) that we properly relate what we read to life.

"We recognize, as did the writer of Ecclesiastes "Of the making of many books, there is no end" (Ecc. 12:12). But, from these many books it is your responsibility to select what you read.

"You determine whether or not you take time to read. You determine what you read. In addition, you determine what your reading means in your life. Your reading affects your thinking and your thinking your actions and your life.

"Your church wants to help all its members take advantage of this right to read and to enjoy its responsibilities. Therefore, your church library is established and maintained. Its adequate facilities are available for you. Its dedicated personnel is committed to serve you. But the choice to read is still yours.

"Reading is the fifth freedom. Enjoy it."
