Translating Money into Missions

Pastor's Paragraphs

I AM PROUD TO BE A BAPTIST

I am proud to be a Baptist, and you would be too if you could have attended the meeting of the Executive Committee last week in Nashville, Tennessee. It was a real thrill to be in a meeting where a budget was presented totaling $20,335,600. Of this amount well over twelve million will go for the cause of missions at home and abroad. (This does not include special offerings such as Annie Armstrong, Lottie Moon, etc.) Yes, I am proud to be a Baptist! I am grateful to God for the opportunity of being a part of a great denomination seeking to do God's will at home and abroad.

Thank you, Mr. Guthrie and Mr. Reed, for a job well done. Both the Sunday School and the Training Union did extremely well in February. We are optimistic about the future.

Remember our revival dates — March 29-April 5. Dr. Carl Bates will be here to preach for us and Miss Jo Ann Shelton will direct the music. A number of people have told me that they can't conceive of a stronger revival team. Rest assured that these two will bless our hearts BUT they are counting on us to do much personal work for the Master. If we are not willing to go out and tell people about our Christ, they will not be reached regardless of who comes to lead us in our revival effort. The time has come for us to roll up our sleeves and go to work. The good Lord willing I am going to talk to several people about Jesus before Sunday — How about you?

Faithfully your pastor,

James L. Pleitz

CONSIDER HOME MISSIONS

"I'll never take my church for granted again." The speaker was Angus Caro, engineer, product of Pensacola First Church; but more recently from the pioneer mission fields of California. He and his young wife (nee Ann Dismukes) had learned the hard-work way what it means to be one of a struggling minority without trained workers and effective church organization. Accustomed to the well-oiled machinery and sharing of responsibilities in the church of their childhood, they had found themselves soon overloaded and with few to help carry the load of a pioneer Southern Baptist Church. Missing was the church prestige and high credit rating which had seemed to be their due. Nor did their converted house church attract the masses as had Pensacola's Romanesque beauty. Serving the Lord in this church had been a matter of real struggle and sacrifice.

Other former Pensacolians are making similar history. The Green Meadows Baptist Church at Kingston, Rhode Island, is a case in point. Here labor Emmett and Sue (Jernigan) Matthews, Bob and Sandy Redmon, and George and Pat Jenista. They worship in their converted house-church, too, while they wait for Home Mission Board assistance to begin construction.

Sacrifice and hardship have made these churches very dear to them. We can share in their struggle through our Home Mission Board and our prayers. Let's give $2,500 through the Annie Armstrong Offering.

† TRAINING UNION LEADERSHIP MEETING

All of the leadership of our Training Union has been asked to meet next Tuesday Evening, March 3. Those from our church who attended the Learning Improvement Clinic in Greensboro will share with us the information and inspiration received at this meeting. There will be age-group sessions.

The schedule for this meeting will be as follows:

6:00 P.M.—Supper

6:20 P.M.—General Meeting

7:00 P.M.—Age-Group Meetings

Mr. Homer Reed, our Training Union Directors, urges every worker in our Training Union to be present.

† W. M. S. DAY SOCIETY

The monthly meeting of our W. M. S. Day Society next Tuesday will feature an address by Mr. Paul Harmon, Counselor of the Escambia County Juvenile Court. The program period begins at 11:00 A.M., Preceded by the Business Meeting at 10:30 A.M.

WHO IS THIS MAN?

Please notify the Pastor immediately if you should see the man pictured here. It is hoped that someone in the congregation may be able to identify him. It is quite urgent that his name be discovered. He has been seen in and around Charlotte, North Carolina, in recent weeks. So far, no report has been received of his being in Pensacola, though records have been made public which indicate that he has intentions of coming here.

PRAY FOR OUR REVIVAL

The pastor requests that in every meeting of our church during the month of March some time be spent in prayer for our Revival which begins on Easter Sunday, March 29. Every Sunday School class meeting, every Circle, every group which meets is asked to pray for those who come to lead us and for each of us that we might prepare our own hearts to receive the blessings which God is ready to give to us!
