From Bethlehem to Calvary

From Bethlehem to Calvary the Saviour's journey lay;
Doubt, unbelief, scorn, fear and hate beset him day by day,
But in his heart he bore God's love that brightened all the way.

O'er the Judean hills he walked, serene and brave of soul,
Seeking the beaten paths of men, touching and making whole,
Dying at last for love of man, on Calvary's darkened knoll.

He went with patient step and slow, as one who scatters seed,
Like a fierce hunger in his heart he felt the world's great need,
And the negations Moses gave he changed to loving deed.

From Bethlehem to Calvary the world still follows on;
Even as the halt and blind of old along his path were drawn;
Through Calvary's clouds they seek the light that led him to the dawn.

—Meredith Nicholson

Adult B Department

This will be an opportunity for all parents of and workers with teenagers to join with the Director of Youth Education in taking a look at the teenager. As we make this depth study, we will deal with their needs and desires, their characteristics, and their relationship in the home.

ANTHEM FOR SUNDAY

Your worship experience will be enriched as you listen to

"Let All The World" by Baker

The soloists will be
Mrs. Wyatt Shows, Mrs. Len Ouzts
and Mr. Ben Riddles

The text is an example of a practice used in England in the mid 17th century which helped to promote hymn singing. The singing of hymns was forbidden; however, when the critics of this part of our worship activity were challenged with the fact that a hymn was sung by Christ and his disciples at the conclusion of the Last Supper, such a scriptural basis provided argument for hymn singing which could not be disputed. The first stanza is a setting of a psalm and the second makes its message very personal to all of God's children.

"The church with psalms must shout,
No door can keep them out.
But above all,
The heart must bear the longest part!
Let all the world in every corner Sing!
—J. H.

LIBRARY NOTES

The twenty-nine true stories in LIVING MIRACLES by James C. Hefley reveal the miraculous power of God in changing the lives of individuals. This book will help Christians in their witnessing. It also is one that can be placed in the hands of a lost person to show him his need for God and how he can be transformed by the power of God. One of these stories is of a Pensacola resident, Napoleon Dufresne, whom some of you will remember.
