A LETTER FROM LINDBERG

When I was a boy the great American hero was Charles Lindberg. (You realize, of course, that Lindberg made his historic flight SEVERAL years before I was born!) It took a lot of courage for that young man to take off in his frail little airplane and to fly across the Atlantic alone. When you're in Washington, be sure and go by the Smithsonian Institute and see the SPIRIT OF ST. LOUIS. I wouldn't fly to Milton in it.

Lindberg was recently asked to comment on the flight of Apollo XI. I wish that every American — especially the younger generation — would memorize these words.

Lindberg wrote: "Decades spent in contact with science and its vehicles have directed my mind and senses to areas beyond their reach. I now see scientific accomplishment as a path, not an end; a path leading to and disappearing in mystery. Science, in fact, forms many paths branching from the trunk of human progress; and on every periphery they end in the miraculous. Following these paths far enough, and long enough, one must eventually conclude that science itself is a miracle—like the awareness of man arising from and then disappearing in the apparent nothingness of space. Rather than nullifying religion and proving that 'God is dead,' science enhances spiritual values by revealing the magnitudes and minitudes — from cosmos to atom — through which man extends and of which he is composed."

Lindberg gives us all something to think about, doesn't he?

I'll look forward to seeing you Sunday — and may God bless!

Faithfully your pastor,

James L. Pleitz

AN OPPORTUNITY YOU SHOULD NOT MISS

For the last twelve years the Pensacola Theological Institute has brought to Pensacola outstanding scholars and lecturers. The Institute has used the facilities of the McIlwain Memorial Presbyterian Church. In recent years attendance has increased to the point that the evening sessions were crowded out even though many members of the host church purposely stayed away to allow room for the out-of-town guests. This year the evening sessions of the Institute will be held in our sanctuary. The preacher for the evening sessions is Dr. Martyn Lloyd-Jones of London, England. For thirty years, until his retirement last August, Dr. Lloyd-Jones was pastor of Westminster Chapel, one of the most significant and best attended churches in England. In that pastorate, he succeeded Dr. G. Campbell Morgan. The evening sessions begin at 7:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. On Sunday, August 17, Dr. Lloyd-Jones will preach at the 7:15 p.m. evening worship service. Ron and Pat Owens will be in charge of the music.

SERMON TOPICS

11:00 A.M.

"What Do You Get When You Fall In Love?"

(John 21:1-17)

7:15 P.M.

"On Building A Brotherhood"

(Acts 10:1-35)

LIBRARY NOTES

Safari For Seven by Thea B. Van Halsema—Travel with this family of seven for four months as they take this trip through Europe and the Middle East. The Van Halsema family visited specific sites which are rich in Bible and church history. You will share the interesting experiences of camping and traveling through "back country" villages that few Americans see — countries which they visited: The Netherlands, West Germany, East Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Syria, Lebanon, Jordan, Israel, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Austria, Liechtenstein, France, Belgium, England. Striking photographs add an extra touch that will make your armchair travel with the family a delight.
