April 21-28 Is National Library Week

We're happy to give special emphasis to our church library. Shown here behind the counter are Mrs. Joe Boykin, Director of Church Library Services, who gives general direction to our total library ministry and Mrs. Stanley Lassiter, who is in charge of promotion. These two are representative of a whole host of volunteer workers who make our church library one of the finest anywhere. The three young people shown here checking out materials are just a few of their customers. If you've not visited in the church library recently, why don't you make a point to go by Sunday.

Pastor's Paragraphs

"FRIENDS"

Annette Humphreys is a 16 year old young lady living here in Pensacola. Although I have never met her personally, I understand that she is very active in a local Catholic church.

The thoughts of this young lady have blessed my life. I understand to share them with you since you're my FRIENDS.

"When God created man, He didn't stop there, but continued working through the night.

"First God added to man's heart a core of trust. Then He whittled out some space for open-mindedness and understanding. Into man's heart He pumped love until it swelled and began to throb. Then, with nimble fingers, He molded two lifeless lips into an everlasting smile. Into each eye He dropped enough tears to say 'I care.' And then, with special grace, He touched the tip of each clumsy finger giving them the most delicate agility; the power to touch. Between the empty ribs, God filled in a spirit, a soul, a power of being and strength. Into man's brain He threaded new ideas — a need for others, a little frustration, and a lot of genuine interest.

"God painted both eyes with clear blue honesty and planted deep into their roots the seeds of devout faith. He frosted man's heart with love and upon the tip of his tongue He placed two special phrases — 'I'm sorry' and 'I forgive you.' Then God looked at this new creation — this extension of man — and gave it a name.

"He calls him
'friend.'"

I'll look forward to seeing you Sunday. We're going to meet in the House of our friend for a great celebration!

Faithfully your pastor,

James L. Plaitz
