Pastor's Paragraphs

CLOUD SIX, SEVEN, OR EIGHT?

He faces plenty of problems in life like the rest of us, but I don't recall ever seeing him despondent. When I remarked the other day on how well he looked he said, "Pastor, I am not on cloud nine but I am on cloud six or seven!"

If you know anything about the lingo used by our young people you will get his message. Life for him is not perfect—but it is meaningful. He has found a real joy in living.

What cloud are you living on? For most of us life is not lived on cloud nine, not for long periods of time anyway. We, like the disciples of old, would like to build three tabernacles on the mountaintop and stay, but there is work that has to be done down in the valley. But you know, even down in the valley we should be living on a cloud. (At least six or seven.)

God intended for life to have meaning, and it can have, in Christ Jesus. Christ said, "I am come that ye might have life and have it more abundantly."

I sincerely hope that you will bring your family and come to the Father's House on the Lord's Day. I'll look forward to seeing you then.

Faithfully your pastor,

James L. Pletty

THANKS

A word of appreciation has come from the First Baptist Church, Tallahassee, for the S & H stamps given by our members to help Paul Bellington buy an airplane for missionary work in Brazil. A Cessna 206 and much other equipment, approximately $100,000 worth, have been shipped to Brazil.

LIBRARY NOTES

What might have happened to Sir Walter Raleigh's "lost colony"—one of history's most remarkable and curious mysteries—provides the exciting background for this fascinating story "Lady of Roanoke", Virginia Dare, first English child born in America.

Spanning the time from Virginia's third year of her marriage, Jean Bothwell tells of the colonists' struggles after their momentous decision to leave Roanoke Island with the Coree Indians—a move that risked cutting all ties with England. She tells how they rebuilt an entire village and how this migration affected every member of the colony.

This absorbing story should appeal to many youthful readers.

PASTOR'S FORUM Sunday, July 16

Mr. Royal is to be one of several participants on the Pastor's Forum Sunday afternoon (12:30 p.m. on Channel 3). The theme is "Music in Worship."

THE LORD'S SUPPER

"There are two great ordinances set in Baptist church, and only two—Baptism and the Lord's Supper. They do not come from men. They are divine appointments. Since the deep gracious meanings of Christianity are symbolized by these ordinances, their observance is fraught with far-reaching moment to both the church and the world.

"Jesus does not say, 'This do in remembrance of certain loved ones,' or to show fellowship with them, but 'This do in remembrance of Me.' It is the only thing He ever asked his people to do whereby they might remember Him. Shall we deny Him this simple request? It is not a question of Christian fellowship. There are other times and places for the tender and beautiful manifestation of Christian fellowship, but this is not the time nor the place to be thinking of that. 'This do in remembrance of Me'."

—Dr. Geo. W. Truett
