CHURCH AND PARENTS

One of the most interesting studies undertaken in the United States related to juvenile crime or misbehavior has been revealed by the New York City Youth Board.

Ten years ago the board sent experts into the homes of about 500 boys, each six years old. The expert social workers and psychologists tried to make an estimate of the future potential of each of the youths at that time.

They observed the family life in the home, how the child was supervised, attendance at church services and other religious training and the efficiency of discipline as related to the child.

The children from homes deficient in these qualities were forecast as potential delinquents. Children from homes of good parental attention and basic religious training were forecast as potential "good citizens."

The records of the children were carefully watched for the following ten years. It is amazing as to how accurate were the forecasts based on the home and church life of the youngsters. The experts found that by the time the children from "bad homes," homes without church guidance, had reached 16 years of age 85 per cent of them were in serious trouble with the authorities. Many of them were repeaters many times over.

On the other hand 95 per cent of the children from homes which provided solid training and discipline and provided basic religious life for the children were what could be described as "good citizens."

Once more this extensive study indicates what we have believed is true. The parents and their religious background have more to do with the ultimate destiny of the children than other factors.

It seems that intelligent parents would be awakened to the dangers of idleness on the Lord's day. Children should be in Sunday school, Training Union and the worship services.

First Baptist Church has its share of indifferent parents. This could result in our having our share of "bad citizens." What about it, parents? Are you willing to change your Sunday habits?

Pastor's Paragraphs

D DAY MINUS 51 AND COUNTING

In spite of recent unrest in Central Africa, the preaching mission in East Africa scheduled for October is still on.

Eight pastors and three ministers of music from across the Convention have been invited to participate in this Crusade. I am grateful that you have made it possible for your pastor to accept this invitation.

The good Lord willing I will leave Pensacola on the afternoon of October 1 bound for Madrid, Spain. Madrid is about the half-way point.

Would you believe it is 9,000 miles from here to Nairobi, Kenya? After spending one day seeing our Baptist work in Madrid, I'll fly to Nairobi the next day.

Missionary James Hampton of Arusha, Tanzania, is in charge of the East African Crusade. I am scheduled to work with him from October 22 to 29. In a recent letter he wrote:

"You are scheduled to preach in two churches here in the Arusha area. The Enkokidongoi church, which is our only organized church among the Wa-arusha tribe and at the Oldonya Sambu church, which is made up primarily of people of the Kikuyu tribe of Kenya. Enkokidongoi, is located about 6 miles from the Seminary up on the slopes of Mt. Meru. There are only about 30 members of this church, but even that is progress among this tribe. They are very similar to the famous Massai tribe, which have resisted modern civilization. Many of them still drink milk and blood from their large herds of cattle. The church or rather mission at Oldonya Sambu will probably be organized into a church before you come to East Africa. This church is located about 20 miles from Arusha at about 8,000 feet altitude also on the slopes of Mt. Meru. They have built their own little building there, which is very rough compared to modern standards, but the people are more responsive than the Wa-arusha tribe. You won't really believe how primitive the Wa-arushas are until you see for yourself."

Then there was this other word. "If we can work it out, maybe we can camp out in the bush for a night or two. You can see many of the wild animals in East Africa including lions that rest in the trees in the afternoon." (Rest assured of this beloved, if we spend the night camped out in this area, I will be sleeping in a tree consider-
