AN OPEN LETTER TO THE NEW SHEPHERD

Dear Fellow Shepherd:

If "fellow shepherd" sounds impersonal, you will understand. We still don't know your name, but God has known since BEFORE you were born.

These wonderful people are now YOUR flock. I have fed them and led them for over 18 years - but they are now YOUR flock. To the best of my ability, I have been their shepherd - but they are now YOUR flock. (This shepherd will always love THESE sheep, but they are now YOUR sheep, and you are THEIR shepherd.)

Be patient with them. They may look you over for a while, but they will soon come to love and trust you. If at first they tell you their former shepherd could walk on the water, don't believe it. He tried it a couple of times, but went to the bottom both times!

Shepherd, lead these sheep gently in love and compassion. Many of them have been bruised and scarred by the circumstances of life. If on occasion they are irritable and hard to lead, the chances are they're hurting somewhere.

Do your best under God to lighten their load. Lead them frequently to the lush green pastures. Quench their thirst by guiding them to the still waters of God's Word.

Give special attention to the old sheep and the little lambs. These folk are easily overlooked, but they deserve your special care. (There are a number of old sheep in this flock who have faithfully followed the Great Shepherd for years. What an inspiration they are to me!)

Lead these sheep gently, shepherd, and you'll be absolutely amazed at how they respond to your leadership . . . And finally, shepherd friend, pray for me - pray that I will be a good shepherd to the sheep that the GREAT SHEPHERD has assigned to me. My prayer for you is that your years in this church will be as happy and joyful as these last 18 years have been for this shepherd and his wife and family. May God bless you as you lead this great church.

OCTOBER OUTREACH

A new church year means a new beginning for the Sunday School departments. One crucial task for every department is to organize for outreach. Department directors and outreach leaders need to begin some basic outreach actions this month. Here are some ideas:

Preschool - As you visit, help parents renew their lives through faith in Jesus. Begin a list of ways to locate prospects. Contact bus outreach director for names of preschoolers' families to visit. Prepare special invitations to church and place these in the treat bag on Halloween night.

Children - Assign every enrolled child to a worker for home visitation. Assign prospects to a worker for home visitation (see preschool ideas). During October, visit assigned children.

Bus outreach workers have been concerned about ministering more effectively to the spiritual needs of bus families. One project that has been completed is the distribution of HOME LIFE magazines to each family. Bus workers have been enthusiastic about establishing a pattern of concern this year. The outlook for outreach this month is a bright one if all workers in our church are committed to the task of teaching and reaching.

"THE LIGHT AND THE GLORY"

Peter Marshall - David Manuel

You may sit back with this book and let your mind wander into the beginning of America's history. However, it is more than history because you become very aware of your spiritual roots, the real foundation of this nation! From Christopher Columbus to George Washington, you will meet men of great faith.

The name Christopher means "Christ-bearer" and Columbus became convinced that God was calling him to bear the Light of Christ to undiscovered lands.

Many people you will meet in this book were not always good examples for Christ. There has been more than one "Watergate" in this great nation's history.

Today our land seems to be in turmoil. Nations to whom we have given freely are almost unanimous in their hatred of us. Our economy is unstable. Drugs, alcohol, sexual promiscuity, pornography, etc. are just a few problems that concern Christian people. Some people say America has reached the "point of no return." Yet such is God's mercy that He does not even require the whole nation to repent. It is enough for those who know Him as He tells us in II Chronicles 7:14:

"If my people, who are called by my name, shall humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and heal their land."

CHURCH VOTES TO BUILD

The church in a special business meeting last Sunday evening approved the recommendation of the Deacons and Building Planning Committee which awards a contract for the building of the North Wing and Elevator. At the same time a recommendation was approved that we engage in a special campaign to raise the necessary funds for this project.
