Brian's Lines

In France they tell the story of the little village that held its annual Harvest Festival. As each family began to gather its part of the food and drink, the villagers decided to make the filling of the wine barrel a co-operative effort. Each family would bring its own wine, the wine they had made themselves, and pour it into the community barrel. At the climax of the celebration the mayor opened the barrel and began a round of toasts.

But when he tasted the first glass he discovered that instead of wine it was only water. Each villager had brought water and saved his own wine at home for they were sure that in so large a barrel a little water would never be noticed.

Have you ever thought that your little contribution was not important, that it really didn't matter what you did? If so, stop a minute and think.

Think of what God has done with "little" things. He used a scraggly bush out in the desert to speak to Moses. He used a little boy with a lunch to feed thousands. He used a prostitute to bring the city of Sychar to repentance. He used an illiterate named Dwight L. Moody to bring two continents closer to Him.

Think of when one has made a difference. California and Texas were both admitted to the Union by the margin of only one vote. In 1868 a single vote prevented the impeachment of President Andrew Johnson. In 1919 the vote of one Louisiana legislator swung into ratification of the 18th Amendment and thereby made the amendment the new law of the land.

Go look into the mirror. That person you see in the mirror is important. Your little part can count. You are only one, but you are one. You cannot do everything but you can do something. If you don't do anything, your little bit will be missed.
