NEW BUSINESS

SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION MESSENGER PROCEDURE

Because of the unusual amount of interest in the Southern Baptist Convention this year, the Committee on Committees and the Deacon Body have elected to ask church members to express their interest in attending the Convention by calling Margaret Shick, Bill Santo's secretary, 433-5631, on or before May 1.

Again, because of the interest, the decision has been made that only one member per household should be a voting messenger to the Convention.

The Committee on Committees will review the list of those willing to serve and recommend ten (10) nominees to the Deacon Body. The Deacons in turn will review and, if they think best, revise the list of nominees for submission to the church membership. Additional nominations may be made from the floor at the church business meeting. The congregation will then elect our ten (10) official messengers from these nominations.

Only registered messengers will be admitted into the Convention sessions. This decision has been made by the S.B.C. Committee on Order of Business because of limited space.

PULPIT COMMITTEE REPORT

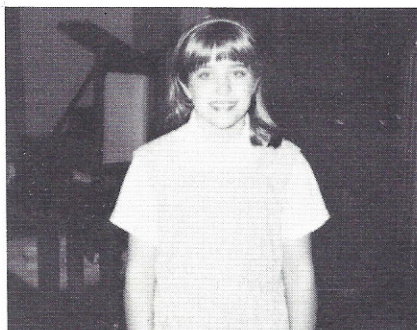

A guest at one of our earliest meetings was T. A. Shell, chairman of a previous pulpit committee, who came to share some of the wisdom gained through his experience. His assessment was that we needed to look for a "strong pulpiter with a pastor's heart." We agreed. We ask your continued prayer support as we are still conferring, deliberating and praying that God will show us the one who meets these, as well as other criteria. We are operating on the premise and promise that God wants nothing but the best spiritually equipped undershepherd for His flock.

FBC PRAYER MINISTRY

"On the morrow, as they went on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, Peter went up upon the housetop to pray about the sixth hour."
(Acts 10:9)

Peter prayed at a definite time. We may certainly pray at any time and we are encouraged to maintain an attitude of prayer in all of our daily walk, but if we set aside a definite time in our day to pray, we will discipline ourselves to walk more closely with the Lord. Prayer should be top priority in our busy daily routine. Let's try praying at a specific time daily, even keeping a record of our prayers, and watch God bless this earnest seeking of him.

CONGRATULATIONS TO KATIE WILLIAMSON

KATIE WILLIAMSON

Katie qualified in our church Bible Drill and went to represent us in the Associational Drill. We're proud of you, Katie!
