The pastor, staff and church family extend Christian sympathy to:

Mrs. Chris Stevenson in the death of her sister-in-law, Annie Clair Reed, in Georgia.

Leah Ann Wilkerson in the death of her father, Hosey Jackson, August 10, in DeFuniak Springs.

Mrs. Arlita Entreklin in the death of her husband, John, August 13.

Jonathan Entreklin in the death of his father, John Entreklin.

James Swofford in the death of his wife, Grace, August 14.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Trummer in the death of their daughter, Ricki Jernigan, August 14, in Detroit, Michigan.

Bob and Vada Jernigan in the death of their daughter-in-law, Ricki Jernigan.

Maguire State Mission Offering

The Maguire State Mission Offering is designed to address Florida's mission and ministry needs which otherwise would not be met through regular Cooperative Program gifts. The offering will provide financial resources to underwrite traditionals as well as new and innovative mission and ministry approaches.

The final object of each of these mission and ministry approaches is to create the climate whereby others will hear the Good News of Jesus Christ. Through this offering, Florida Baptists can share the joy in that proclamation.

"Florida is the greatest mission field anywhere in the United States," observed John Maguire, former executive secretary-treasurer of the Florida Baptist Convention. "And unless Florida Baptists arise to the occasion of reaching these lost people, we are going to be going backwards, instead of forward."

The 1988 Maguire State Mission Offering will provide financial assistance: in the start and development of mission churches; for emergency aid to pastors in Florida's partnership states; and to United Christian Action's program of moral education.

Statewide Goal: $660,000

Our Church's Goal: $5,000

The Seagle Say:

SERIOUS ATTENTION . . .

will soon focus on the election and selection of our church leaders. That's always a serious and vitally important issue. The process caused me to think some about those things that should characterize our leadership. I have built my thinking around the five (5) "C's."

THE FIVE "C's" . . .

of leadership, if taken seriously, could change every facet and phase of God's ministry given to each of us.

Those who lead must be:

- 1. Called;
- 2. Committed;
- 3. Caring;
- 4. Cooperative; and
- 5. Congenial.

CALLED!

A sense of God's personal call to responsibility is necessary. Frustration and difficulty is our lot in so many endeavors. A sense of call keeps us going when our natural instincts are to quit.

COMMITTED!

A fascinating study is being made concerning the unwillingness to commit time, energy and effort to those things that do not bring either personal or financial reward. The church of our Lord must have those committed to faithful attendance, stewardship and a positive spirit toward reaching our world for Christ.

CARING!

"The friendly family of First Baptist Church" must be more than a neat slogan. We must consistently demonstrate a love for others found first in Jesus Christ.

COOPERATIVE!

It's our toughest one. The bruising of business life causes much suspicion — sometimes producing an adversarial relationship. All of us know churches who are stressed with division. We grieve over the stress. My prayer is that we would establish the model for a life venture of cooperation and mutual respect.

CONGENIAL!

I'm speaking of more than warmth. I'm speaking of our being ambassadors for Christ, extending a friendly, loving hand to the City.

The five "C's" are not optional. They are difficult. Join me as we implement the five "C's" in this terrific fellowship.

Great and wonderful services Sunday. Music beyond our highest expectation. Decisions at all services. I can hardly wait until next Sunday! See you 1500 strong in Sunday School. Let's round our folk up for the most exciting fall in our memory.

CHILDREN'S CAMP

Children's Camp '88 was a special Camp experience for all 62 participants. The 52 children and 10 adults had a busy week of study, fun, music, fun and worship and on and on.

I want to thank those adults who went to camp. Thanks to Triss Masters, Martha Gay, Jean Ingram and Kathy Newbold for serving as Girls Counselors and thanks to Paul Rasmussen, Robb Newbold and Stephen Gay for serving as Boys Counselors. These people not only "lived" with the children but led Bible Study each day and helped with Crafts, Recreation and any other area where help was needed.

Thanks to our Pastor, Cecil Seagle, for making Camp a high priority on his list. His leadership in worship helped us all focus on the real reason for being at Camp — meeting Jesus in a Personal Way. On Thursday evening there were 11 decisions — 3 professions of faith and 8 rededications.

Thanks to Marilyn Bennett who led Recreation with the assistance of Martha Gay and all the counselors.

The week was special with the counselors voting Brian Hicks as Best Boy Camper; Paige Rawson as Best Girl Camper; and Daniel Driskell as Best Overall Camper for 1988!
