The Seagle Say:

The "home . . . stretch" is before us. Let me tell you what the "home stretch" involves. It involves:

— an $86,000 Lottie Moon Foreign Missions offering December 18th;

— catching up on our tithes and offerings for '88 — reducing the deficit and entering 1989 on a healthy and vibrant note.

The "home . . .

stretch" calls us to:

- disciplined giving;
- disciplined living;
- disciplined care for others. We dare not falter on the "home stretch." Races are often lost on the "home stretch."

Discouragement is often greatest on the "home stretch." Difficulty is frequently our greatest obstacle on the "home stretch."

The "home . . .

stretch" — from now to December 31 — is an opportune time. We will not be able to go back and relive or re-do these next few days. My urgent challenge is that we would be faithful on the "home stretch." I think it's possible to close the year in such a positive fashion as to startle even the most optimistic among us.

The "home . . .

stretch" is now! Let's close '88 with a flourish that brings honor to Christ and Christ alone!

I'll see you 1500 strong in Bible study during the "home stretch."

CHRISTMAS WORSHIP SCHEDULE

Christmas Eve: Carols and Candles — 5:00 P.M.

Christmas Day: Worship — 10:30 A.M.

The staff, deacon body and pastor have adopted the above schedule for the Christmas season. There will be no Sunday School Sunday, December 25th. The schedule allows parents and children a bit of extra time on Sunday morning. An outstanding Children's program Christmas Eve and Christmas Day is being planned as a part of the worship experience. Join us for an exciting and joyous time of celebration and praise.

CECIL W. SEAGLE, Pastor

SANCTUARY DECORATIONS

Many thanks to Troy and Elaine Booker for decorating the interior of the church Sanctuary! Mrs. Booker is chairman of the Flower Committee and always does a good job — but this Christmas work goes above and beyond the usual call of duty. We thank you.

Also we owe sincere words of thanks to Elliott and Frances Dobelstein who, year after year, lovingly place the Nativity Scene in front of the church in memory of their son, Wayne.

The poinsettias are beautiful! Thanks to all who have provided them to honor and memorialize friends and family members.

CONGRATULATIONS AND THANKS FOR A JOB WELL DONE!!

Pictured above from left to right, standing, are Tom McVoy, Chris Banakas, John Edwards, Marvin Lee, Max Dickson. Seated are Toni Clevenger, Rita Baroco, Charlie Faye Wilson. Not pictured is Barbara McVoy. This group of dedicated, hard working people were honored at the recent 20th Annual Challenger Award Banquet and given gold pins commemorating 20 years of work with the banquet. Thanks for a job well done!

"THE EAGLE"

Many join Scouting, many do pretty good, but only one or two out of every one hundred make it to this highest step — The Eagle. It takes determination, wisdom, support from our church, support from family and friends — but most of all it takes the setting of priorities by the young man not to be sidetracked from reaching his goal. What side tracks him? Everything from sports, school, church, girls, and a host of other time-consuming events. Thanks to just a few of these young men, they overcome or reschedule these everyday events and complete this honorable quest.

On November 17, 1988, Matt Maillian was presented his Eagle. Scouts will come and Scouts will go — but none have tried harder, or overcome more obstacles, or been more dedicated to his mission than Matt. I salute you my hard charger. Stand tall and proud for this accomplishment and milestone you have earned.

All Glory and Honor be to the Lord.
